VOLUME XIX

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1916.

NUMBER 28

Popular Couple Wed.

Last Thursday afternoon at 3:30 Miss Mattie Young, one of the best loved and most attractive young women of the Zion neighborhood, became the bride of Mr. Henry Moore, a popular young farmer of near Cane Valley.

The ceremony was impressively pronounced by Rev. Z. T. Williams at the home of the bride's parents.

The guests were gracefully received by Miss Mary Young, a sister of the bride and Miss Thomasine Garnett, and ushered into the home made beautiful by a profusion of wild flowers. In the parlor a rainbow scheme was artistically carried out and the bride and groom stood beneath a beautiful arch of foliage and wild flowers.

The bride looked her loveliest in a becoming blue coat suit as did also her maid of honor, Miss Allie Garnett.

Mr. Moore and his best man, Mr. Rollin Cundiff, wore conventional black.

Misses Eva Murrell, Ruth Upton, Lois Holladay, Julia Lloyd, May Upton and Avis Tupman were the attractive bridesmaids.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moore accompanied by Miss Allie Garnett and Mr. Rollin Cundiff, Miss Mary Young and Mr. John Smith, and Miss Julia Lloyd and Lewis Young, left for the home of the groom, where a sumptuous supper was served.

As proof of their popularity the young couple received a number of handsome presents.

Farmers and Timber Men.

Until further notice we are paying the following prices for second growth split black jack spokes, delivered on our yard, in Columbia, Ky.:

On heart 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 in depth, 30 inches long, $15.00 per thousand.

These spokes must be free from defects, such as worm holes, knots and sun shake, and no more than one-third sap. This timber must show a good wide growth. For further information call on "A Case of Suspension" and "Just Plain Dot" drew a large audience to the Graded School Gym last Wednesday evening. Every body was well paid for the trip up the hill, as the play, which was given by pupils of the different grades, was full of amusement, all the actors being in fine trim for entertaining. The audience was kept in an uproar during the whole of the play, and compliments of the acting were freely given. Misses Ewing and Akers, teachers, deserve credit for the perfect manner each performer acted his or her part.

I will be in Columbia Monday, May 15th, for the purpose of buying mules, 14 1-4 to 14 3-4 hands, good foot and bone 4 to 9 years old.

C. L. Pemberton.

There will be no preaching at the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath morning, but at four o'clock there will be a special Mother's Day service. The sacrament of Baptism will also be administered. All the mothers of the church are urged to be present, especially those whose children are on the Cradle Roll. Any parents having children to be baptized are invited to bring them to this service. The Christian Endeavor Society will follow at once after the benediction. This service will take the place of the night service. All are invited.

Mr. George Jesse, who is a well known, happened to a very serious accident one day last week. He got his hand caught in the machinery, mashing it very badly, breaking several bones and cutting the middle finger nearly off. It will be some time before he can use his hand.

In the article published last week about Mr. Collins, of Glensfork, getting his leg broke by being kicked by a colt, it should have been G. W. Collins instead of G. M. Collins. Mr. Collins is a son of Mr. T. F. Collins, of this place. He is reported improving.

If you are in need of a pump I can save you money.

S. F. Eubank.

The Recital.

The recital by the pupils of Mrs. Ray Montgomery and Miss Alice Walker was held last Friday night at the High School Gymnasium before an unusually large audience.

The feature of the program was the declamatory contest which was won by Miss Eva Walker. Her interpretation of "The Swan's Song" was exceptional and she held her audience with her charm and naturalness. The two other contestants for the medal presented by Prof. W. M. Wilson were Miss Allene Montgomery, who recited "The Lost Word," by Van Dyke, and Miss Katharine Neil, who gave "Cigarette's Ride."

Another interesting number was the recitation of "Little Boy Blue" by Louise Rowe, accompanied at the piano by Carrie Grissom.

The remainder of the program consisted of piano solos, duets and trios by Marshall Paull, Marle Bradley, Mabel Rosenbaum, Carrie Grissom, Mary Summers, Corinne Breeding, Eva Walker, and Robert Carroll.

I have a nice cottage for rent.

W. F. Cartwright.

Examinations.

The examination for Common School Diploma will be held at the County Superintendent's office on the second Friday and Saturday in May, (May 12 and 13.) Applicants will furnish their own paper and pencils and pay the usual fee of $1.00. The Common School Diploma entitles the holder to free tuition in the County High School.

The white teachers' examination will be held at the Columbia Graded School building on May 19th and 20th, beginning at 8 o'clock, a. m., each day. Applicants will have tablets and composition books furnished them at 5 cents per copy. No certificate will be granted to persons of immoral character or to any one who smokes cigarettes. No use of tobacco in any form will be allowed on the grounds.

Tobias Huffaker, S. S. A. C.

Lost—A tie pin at Lindsey-Wilson or between there and my home. Will pay reward.

Sandidge Allison.

Next Monday will be the opening of the Adair circuit court, and evidently there will be a very large crowd in town. There are a great many of our Adair county patrons who are behind on our subscription books, and we need every cent that is due us. We are paying about 30 per cent. more for blank paper now than we were three months ago, which adds greatly to our former expenses, hence we must collect in order to meet our obligations. Every subscriber who is behind knows it, and this notice should be sufficient for them to come forward and pay.

Mules Wanted.

I will be in Columbia on the first day of Circuit Court to buy mules. Will buy all classes.

Frank Tolliver.

The 30th of this month will be decoration day. It is the custom of the people of Columbia and vicinity to assemble in the cemetery, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, have exercises, an address and music, and place flowers upon the graves of their loved ones. The Cemetery Committee should, in due time select some one to deliver the address, and in the meantime all the graves should be put in good condition.

For Sale—a good kitchen range for wood or coal, also a heating stove for wood.

R. V. Chapin.

The Baccalaureate sermon for Lindsey-Wilson will be preached by Rev. A. P. Lyon at the Methodist Church next Sunday forenoon. There will be special music.

Mr. Jas. T. Page has had the double porch in front of his residence almost made new, which adds to the appearance of the building.

The following cases will be tried at this term of court: Misdemeanors, 55; felony, 12; ordinary cases 15; equity cases, 81.

My Birthplace.

The house described by this writer is the old Cartwright home at Glenville.

One summer while visiting my grandfather, my uncle took me to a small village to visit my birthplace. I found it to be a large, old-fashioned frame house, setting back a short distance from the road, and presenting a very forlorn, neglected appearance.

Standing guard over the entrance were two giant locust trees, nodding and whispering together of the ghosts of the past. A stone walk led up to a small portico that was overrun with vines, while on either side, under the front windows, were remnants of forgotten flower beds. The front yard, it could hardly be called a lawn, was grown over with crab grass and field daisies, and one side had even developed a blackberry patch.

As I stood in the quiet summer afternoon listening to the gentle murmur of the trees, and gazing upon the scene before me, all the memories of the stories mother had told me of the past, came crowding back upon me. Walking slowly up the walk, I parted the vines, and stepped upon the portico. From here to the back of the house ran a large hall. The scene from the back door showed the ruins of the old chimney, directly at the left, but beyond that was an orchard, a beautiful, peaceful orchard that rolled gently toward the creek in the distance.

Walking around on the other side, I found a gigantic sycamore tree, under which mother had spent many a joyful hour. Continuing my walk, I stopped under the locust trees, and gazing out upon the hills beyond, tried to listen to what the old family sentinels had to tell me, and as I listened, my shoulders grew straighter, and my head higher, and I was glad—proud that I had been born—a Kentuckian.

Attention.

I am in need of ready cash. Short accounts make long friends. This means you.

D. M. Moore,
Garlin, Ky.

The pike from here to the Taylor county line is in a fearful condition and gets worse daily. The county can not afford to let this piece of road longer go without work, and as it is in the hands of the Fiscal Court, steps should be taken at once to better its condition. The longer the delay the more it will cost to repair it. Do not sit around and talk about its improvement, but go to work and accomplish something. You are charging toll over it, and there is a kick from every body who travels it.

I will be in Columbia Monday, May 15th, for the purpose of buying mules, 14 1-4 to 14 3-4 hands, good foot and bone, 4 to 9 years old.

C. L. Pemberton.

Old Nat Brown.

The famous Old Nat Brown will make the present season at my barn, three miles South of Columbia. Fee, ten dollars to insure. Also, have a young Jack. Fee, Seven dollars to insure. Care taken to prevent accidents, but not responsible should they occur.

J. Press Miller.

Three months ago if a person could have looked into the future, telling what old junk would be worth at this time, he could have made a great many dollars by picking up old copper, brass, zinc, gum shoes, etc, as it brings good money per pound. This office has sold forty dollars worth to Mr. Sam Lewis that was considered worthless. This does not include old type and metal, as we knew that it had a value.

Mr. Campbell Hutchison, who is a driver for the Rapid Transit Company, got badly hurt at Campbellsville last Thursday afternoon. He was loading some fertilizer from a box car on to truck, and in some way got caught between the car and truck as the train started. He was carried to a hotel where he yet remains. His injury is internal, but it is hoped that he will recover.

At Presbyterian Church.

The Baccalaureate sermon of the Columbia Graded and High School was preached last Sunday at the Presbyterian church by Rev. D. M. Sweets, D. D., of Louisville. His remarks to the graduating class were appropriate and helpful. The people of Columbia were glad of the opportunity to hear Dr. Sweets, who is the editor of the Christian Observer, and were greatly pleased with his sermon.

Special music was furnished by the choir. The graduating class includes Misses Ruth Hamilton, Minnie Ingram, Nannie Faulkner, Virginia Coffey, Mary Riggins and Mr. Paul Hamilton.

Ninety Eight Years Old.

Mrs. Easter Dohoney, who is the mother of Messrs. J. P., J. C. and W. T. Dohoney and Mrs. Nannie Flowers, was ninety-eight years old last Tuesday. She is in fine health and her mind is active. Thursday following her birthday she visited her nieces, Mrs. Margaret Tucker and Mrs. Kinzie Murrell, spending one and a half hours in social converse. Mrs. Dohoney relates incidents of long ago in an interesting manner, and keeps up with the local happenings about Columbia. She is the oldest lady in Adair county. Mr. Willis Page, of Sparkesville, is a few years her senior, being 102, and Mr. N. B. Dohoney, who lives near Milltown, a relative by marriage, being ninety-six. There are a few other persons in Adair county who are close to ninety, and there are many who are from 84 to 87.

Bring your mules to Columbia on the first day of Circuit Court if you want to sell them.

Frank Tolliver.

"Clean Up" is Slogan.

The State Board of Health has issued a proclamation designating the week beginning Monday, May 8th, as "Clean-up week" in Kentucky. The proclamation urges every family, teacher, owner and occupier of property to gather and burn all refuse on their premises, especially in back yards and cellars. The Board of Health especially urges the installation of septic tanks in sections not reached by sewers.

I have on hands some buggy wheels and tops, backs and cushions. Come quick for a bargain.

28-3t. J. F. Eubank.

Colored Examination.

The examination for colored teachers will be held at the Columbia Graded School building on May 26th and 27th, and the same ruling and regulations will apply to that examination as to the one for the whites.

Respectfully,
Tobias Huffaker, A. C. S.

Capt. Dan Shober, of the Salvation Army, Louisville, made his annual visit to Columbia last week. He visited nearly every home in the town, many contributing to the cause he represents. He carries a cornet with him and while here he rendered a number of solos, upon the square. He also, in company with Mr. Walter Sullivan, visited Cane Valley, meeting and playing with the band at that place. While here he visited the two schools, the Lindsey-Wilson and Graded Schools, speaking at each institution. There were many kindly expressions of him and his work.

Rev. O. P. Bush and family were returning from the creek last Monday evening, when the pony they were driving became frightened and ran away demolishing the buggy. They were all thrown from the buggy, but fortunately none were seriously hurt.

Bennett & Smith are handling ice and will furnish the demand during the summer. One cent per pound, or $1.60 per block.

26-2t.

The Graded School will close Friday of this week.

An Enjoyable Afternoon.

Miss Allene Nell entertained a number of little girls Saturday afternoon in honor of the Misses Bell, of Red Lick, who were visiting Mrs. Zora Rowe. Those present were: Mary Orlena Bell, Zora Bell, Marshall Paull, Frances Browning and Lucile Winfrey.

The hours from 3 to 5 were spent in games, and at 4:30 Mrs. Nell called the girls in the parlor and served refreshments.

Misses Bell and Paull played several pieces on the piano that were enjoyed by all, and the little folks did beautifully when leaving, expressing so nicely their appreciation of the afternoon.

The Debate.

There was an interesting discussion on a live subject, in the Lindsey-Wilson Chapel last Friday evening. The speakers were Robert Willis and Ira Powers for the C. D. S., and David Vance and J. A. Vire for the F. L. S. Eld. Z. T. Williams, Jno. W. Flowers and G. B. Smith were the Judges and decided in favor of the F. L. S.—the negative.

Monday, May 15, is the day set for you to bring your mules to Columbia if you wish to sell them.

Frank Tolliver.

For Sale.

Our three houses and lots. One located on Bomar Heights, with one acre of ground. The other two in White City. Also 10 acres of timbered land. Now we want to sell and now is your opportunity, if you want property in town. We will sell at a bargain. Reason for selling want to go to Indiana. For further information call on

Mr. P. N. Sherrill, who lives at Absher, has had fine luck fishing this season. Up to the present he has caught thirty-five perch, six of them weighing three pounds each. He fished with a reel. Besides the perch he has caught, five catfish, measuring from 18 to 22 inches. He states that fish are very plentiful in the river, and sports who want to meet with success should visit his section, set upon the banks of the river, with good live minnows, and success is assured.

At Cost.

I have six new binders (Deering) which I will sell at actual cost.

Atlas Peck, who ranks next to the Wild Onion school teacher in the way of brains, made a talk before the scholars at the Wild Onion school house Friday evening and dwelt at length on the possibilities of the imagination, which, when analyzed, means that when a person lets his imagination run away with him he leaves the straight and narrow road of truth and jumps the fence into the field of doubt. During the course of his well chosen remarks, Atlas stated that his great-grandfather used to tell of a man who was several hundred times larger than anybody else and was just as strong as he was large. There was no house big enough for him, so he slept in a large cave—and then his feet stuck out and got cold. He said this man had a very bad temper at times and when he ate four or five steers for supper and they didn't agree with him during the night, he would get up the next morning out of sorts and would go out and pull up several trees by the roots, or upset a pond or two, and grab mules by the tail and slam them against the ground. But on the other hand, when he was feeling good he was in fine humor and some times would laugh so loud all the neighbors thought it was an earthquake.

Now according to Atlas, this man was a great hand to do anything in his power for his friends, and it so happened one day that there was an open air meeting of the citizens to take up the project of straightening a very crooked creek, and after hearing the difficult problem, this man got up and advised all of them to go home and go to bed, that when they got up the next morning the creek would be straight. And they all did as the big man suggested, and the big man went down to the mouth of the creek, caught hold of the end of it and gave it a big pull and the creek stretched out as straight as a string. The talk of Atlas was enjoyed by all and was not doubted as he is one of the trustees.

Acres for Homesteads.

Farm and Fireside tells us that measures looking to giving the states some 30,000,000 acres of public lands are pending and that there is good chance that some of these will pass, now or in some future session. There are also pending various measures to permit homesteads of areas up to 420 and even 640 acres to be taken up, in the remaining public lands, on the theory that the 160-acre homestead is too small, in semi-arid regions, to be a working industrial unit.

"People who have ideas of 'going West,'" we read, "and taking up a homestead, after the fashion of our forefathers and grandfathers in the decades after the Civil war, should keep their eyes on legislation looking to giving away vast areas of the public domain. A long list of bills have been introduced, and some favorably reported, giving to the States great areas of the public lands, to be disposed of by them to raise funds for road-building, education, and other purposes. The Western States are making determined efforts to get great slices of the Government's lands turned over to them, and not a few public men from States which contain no public lands are inclined to favor the scheme. They think the States on the whole know better how to get the best development of their lands than Washington does."

Fire, supposed to have been started by a careless use of matches, completely destroyed a barn and its contents at the Feeble Minded Institute. Several small boys had been sent to the barn to get some feed and it is thought that they were smoking and dropped a lighted match. Loss, $3,000, covered by insurance.

The Negro Soldiers.

Our negro soldiers are giving a good account of themselves in the Mexican trouble. In fact, they are standing out conspicuously and receiving a great deal of praise. For it has been the Tenth regiment of cavalry, a regiment composed wholly of negroes, with the exception of its officers, that has been at the front all of the time.

It was a detachment of this Tenth cavalry that had the fight with the Villistas, in which sixty of the bandits were killed, and when it was reported Villa got his wound. So it must have been a negro who had the honor—to shoot the leader of as murderous a gang of bandits as was ever turned loose upon a community.

All of which is here stated simply that the colored man may have his due. He has a hard time of it as a general proposition, in receiving credit. Where one race so completely dominates a country as the white man dominates this one, other races, in the minority, do not always receive the praise to which they are often entitled.

So far as it goes in numbers, the American army is the equal, if not the superior of any army on earth. Certainly the average American soldier is the equal if not the superior of the average soldier of any other country. They are as well trained, as intelligent, as courageous, as any set of men on earth. They are undergoing hardships in Mexico without complaint. They are effective in every way, and the colored-soldier is figuring in the general average, and keeping up his end of the average.

The colored soldier is peculiarly fitted for the contest in Mexico. In the first place, he likes the warm weather, and can stand warmer temperatures than the white man. He is more at home in Mexico, if you please, and when the day's march is done, he is in better physical condition than the white man. As for the glamor of war, it appeals to the colored man. The very rhythm of the march is music to his ears. The military trappings suits him in every respect. His loyalty to his white officers is inspiring. So he goes along in the man hunt as happy and carefree as if he were gathering blakberries, and sings his soulful melody when others are too tired to sing.—Dayton Daily News.

White Slave Mann.

James R. Mann, the Republican House leader, is getting hotly roasted by newspapers of every political faith as a result of his now famous criticism of the President's last note to Germany. It is not surprising to see the Philadelphia Record and the Courier-Journal joining pens to damn him, but look what the New York Sun "hands" him: "President Wilson has received from two members of the Chicago bar the subjoined telegram, inspired by Representa-

Mogul 8-16 Saves Its Own Price In Fuel Bill Reduction

THAT'S true. A Mogul 8-16 kerosene tractor saves its own price in fuel bill saving, as compared with a gasoline tractor.

Until April 1st the price remains at $675 cash f. o. b. Chicago. Fortunate early purchases of material still allow you this low figure. After April 1st the price will be $725, same terms.

At either price the Mogul 8-16 is by far the most economical tractor because it operates on cheap, common kerosene or coal oil. Gasoline to run the gasoline tractor costs over 100 per cent more than the kerosene a Mogul 8-16 will use. Which is best for you?

You know what gasoline costs you, and you know what you pay for kerosene. Figure it out yourself, or see your dealer. This is a saving you can't afford to miss.

tive Mann's criticism of Mr. Wilson's diplomatic course:

"Jim Mann is a disgrace to the Republican party and should be impeached on the motion of a Republican."

"Mr. Mann is the official Republican wasp in the larger chamber of Congress. He is an experienced and acute parliamentarian; since his appearance in Washington at the opening of the fifty-fifth Congress he has accumulated a great store of knowledge of the rules. He probably knows as much as Hinds' Precedents itself; his admirers assert that John J. Fitzgerald has not a more intimate acquaintance with the procedure of the House. This is disputed vigorously, however, by Representative Fitzgerald's friends. But Mr. Mann's business is to be continuously, uninterruptedly, fanatically partisan, and he is a diligent worker."

"The high spot of Mr. Mann's legislative career is the so-called 'white slave act' that bears his name. It is a futile and meddlesome enactment, chiefly useful to blackmailers. In it is registered the final attainment of an outburst of hysteria. It contributes materially to bring the law of the land into contempt. The essential parochialism of this measure gives a fair index of the breadth of its author's mental outlook, and its provisions adequately reveal his intellectual limitations. If anybody wants to know Jim Mann of Illinois let him read this law."

Had Mann been a Democrat and the President a Republican such an utterance as his declaration about the President's note would have been proof sufficient to Republicans that the Democratic party contained all of the fools. It seems to be proof to many Republicans that when the Republicans elevated Mann to leadership it proved that the Republican party contained other fools than Mann.

It is strange—and to the Republicans humiliating—that an individual who so spectacularly made a fool of himself upon the occasion of the President's note was recently spoken of seriously as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. His assertion that the President delivered an ultimatum to Germany because he was a Scotch-Presbyterian and a hater of the Dutch has rendered his boom as dead as a Scotch herring. Nobody has committed political suicide in a single sentence more strikingly than Mann. He would not have been elected President, or nominated, but he would have remained a prominent and popular party leader had he not "burst out" with a contemptible and idiotic criticism of the President's widely popular attitude toward Germany's submarine activities.

Labor Conditions.

There are many strikes going in Eastern cities, despite the fact that labor conditions in the last year or two have improved materially. Organized labor received more in the year ending with May 1 in increased wages, shortening of hours and legislation than ever before in its history, according to officials of the American Federation of Labor. Wage advances were general the country over in virtually every line of industry and laws benefiting labor were put on the statute books of every State in the Union except five.

Wage increases were greatest in the metal trades, many of which were stimulated by war orders. Cotton manufacturing was the only main industry which did not grant substantial increases. The metal trades, too, claimed the greatest number of strikes during the year, though many plants increased the pay of their men and cut working hours voluntarily.

One benefit brought by the industrial revival which labor officials consider as important as increases in wages was the effect on unemployment, which has disappeared within the past year.

Obviously labor is doing pretty well at the present writing, and generally speaking, there seems little cause for dissatisfaction. Most of the strikes at present seem to be for the eight-hour day which, however, desirable it may be, could well afford to be postponed a little longer in the face of a situation that otherwise is unobjectionable.—Frankfort State Journal.

$1,000,000.00 FOR A NEW STOMACH

It is said that one of America's best known multi-millionaires—a man who ruined his digestion in the pursuit of wealth—stated that he would pay a million dollars for a new stomach.

But, while surgeons have become very skillful in performing operations that were once considered impossible, nobody has stepped forward and offered to sell his stomach to that millionaire. Your stomach is worth more than a million dollars to you. It is LIFE to you.

This millionaire's stomach is so ruined by abuse that it can never be made "as good as new" by any medicine. But YOUR stomach, properly aided NOW can be restored to its normal condition.

If YOU suffer from indigestion, "heartburn," gas in stomach, foul breath, sense of fullness after eating, sour stomach, and will act NOW instead of delaying longer, you can get PROMPT relief.

Russian Troops in France.

That a strong force of Russian troops should have been sent to France is amazing. But why Russians and not British? Why are Russian troops brought clear from Eastern Europe when a few miles away across the English Channel, are hundreds of thousands of British soldiers who have not yet been under fire? Great Britain has raised an army 3,500,000, and by compulsory service is increasing it rapidly. Is it so paralyzed by the fear of a German invasion of England that it dare not exert its strength in rendering aid to France? The British military policy of procrastination is to day the most puzzling aspect of the war.

For the past twenty months Russia has been under constant attack by Germany and Austria and has suffered tremendous losses. By comparison, in Flanders and France, at Gallipoli and Mesopotamia, Great Britain's losses have been relatively light. If Russia can move troops for its ally's sake to the western front it must be from supreme confidence in its own ability to hold Germany and Austria in check from the Baltic to Balkans and drive home its campaign against the Turks in the Caucasus.

It is an ominous event for Germany that the Russian army has disembarked at Marseilles. That may not immediately change the course of the war but it demonstrates that, though France may be bleeding at every vein and though Great Britain may debate and delay aggressive action, Russia's armies are constantly replenished and no enterprise is too great for it to undertake in a spirit of loyalty to its allies.

Methodist Churches in England have not enough preachers to fill pulpits on account of the number fighting in the trenches.

On The Battle Fronts.

The conference between Gen. Scott and Gen. Obregon has amounted to nothing so far. The Mexicans demand a date set for the withdrawal of the United States troops and this the President has not instructed Gen. Scott to consider. The Mexican General is again claiming as a basis for the withdrawal that Villa is dead. The situation is very acute.

Maj. General Townshend has surrendered at Kut-El-Amara for lack of provisions to sustain his army. Before surrendering to the Turks he destroyed all of his guns and ammunition. The siege lasted for 147 days and the number of troops surrendered amounted to 10,000.

A British battleship was sunk by a mine with the loss of 143 men. This is thirteenth battleship the English have lost since the war began.

The rebellion in Ireland is about over after 100 were killed including a number of English officers. In Dublin the rebels have surrendered in large numbers over 700 being prisoners including an Irish Countess who dressed as a man took part in the fighting.

The French regard the battle of Verdun as won and report that the Germans are moving many of their heavy guns from that front with the view of an attack on the English in Flanders. French troops on the offensive at Dead Man's Hill have captured several trenches. The battle of Verdun lasted for nearly two months and the failure of the Germans to capture it, after enormous losses, is regarded as great setback to the Teutonic allies.

The second attempt of the Turks to take the offensive against the Russian armies in Asia Minor apparently has ended in failure, the Russian again sweeping westward.

The Germans have lost another submarine.

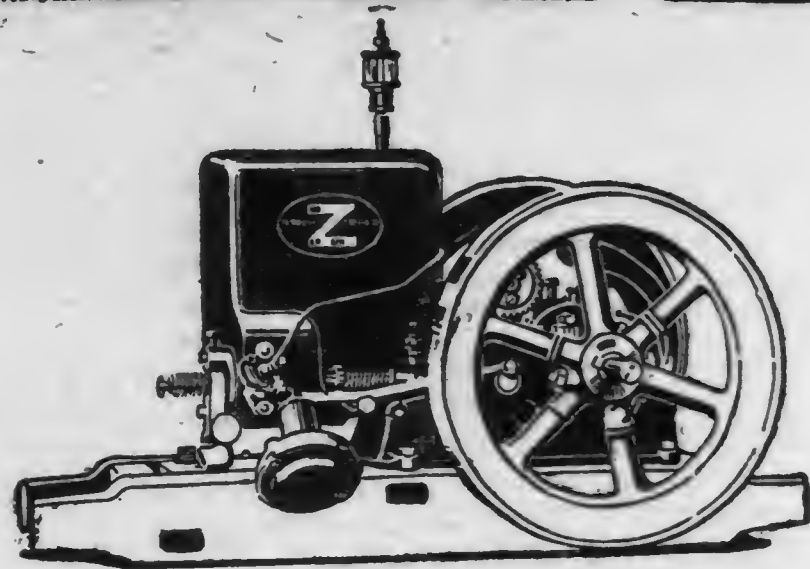

The conference between Emperor William and Ambassador Gerard, which lasted three days, was concluded and as a result news was flashed from Berlin that there would be no break between Germany and the United States. This is understood that Germany will agree to abandon its submarine warfare on passenger and merchant ships rather than sever diplomatic relations with the United States.

The Carranza government was made to distinctly understand that the United States troops will not be withdrawn from Mexico and that no date will be set for their withdrawal. The purposes for which they entered Mexico must be accomplished whether Carranza's troops aid or resist in the movement.

Announcements.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce that CHARLES F. MONTGOMERY, of Casey County, is a candidate to represent the Eighth District in the next Congress, subject to the Democratic primary to be held August 5, 1916.

In the poll of thirty-five states, by the Republicans, Hughes, of New York, is decidedly in the lead for the Presidency. A few weeks ago Mr. Roosevelt was reported to be the choice of that party.

WAR SITUATION

The advance of the French in the district of Dead Man Hill, on the Verdun front, was continued during the night, the War office announced this afternoon. The gains made yesterday were increased and consolidated.

As a consequence of the French artillery preparation at Dead Man Hill yesterday, the statement says, two Germans surrendered, stating they were the sole survivors of the men in their trenches.

Elsewhere west of the Meuse there was some fighting with artillery. An engagement with grenades occurred in Avocourt wood. In the region of Vaux, east of the Meuse, there was an artillery encounter.

French artillery destroyed a munition depot at Grande Dune, Belgium.

The text of the statement follows:

"In Belgium our artillery fire dismantled the works of the enemy at Grande Dune, and caused the explosion of the depot of munitions. West of the river Meuse there has been a violent bombardment in all the sectors, together with fighting with grenades in the woods of Avocourt.

"As the night progressed we enlarged and consolidated the gains we made yesterday at Dead Man Hill. Previous reports that the losses of the enemy were considerable have been confirmed. The preparatory fire of our artillery was particularly effective on the enemy.

"East of St. Mihiel a strong reconnoitering party of the enemy came forward from its lines in an endeavor to occupy one of our positions not far from Apremont. French forces met the Germans and they were driven back. The night passed quietly on the remainder of the front.

"A French aviator yesterday flying in the vicinity of Douaumont met in the air two German aeroplanes and engaged them in combat. One of the enemy machines fell to the ground while the other fled."

Berlin, May 4, (via London, 3:31, p. m.)—It is officially announced that the French have obtained a foothold in one of the German advance posts south of Dead Man Hill.

The announcement to this effect was made in today's army headquarters statement, which is as follows:

"Western Theater: In the sector between Armentieres and Arras there has been some lively fighting. Near Souches and northwest of Lense there have been some mine engagements and similar fighting near Neuville Northwest of Lense an attempt by the English to advance following some mine explosions failed.

"In the sector of the Meuse the artillery fire on both sides increased with great violence during the evening and was exceptionally violent in the night. A French attack against our positions on the slopes to the west of Dead Man Hill were repulsed. To the southwest of the hill the enemy obtained a foothold in one of our advanced posts.

"Of several enemy aeroplanes which dropped bombs this morning upon the garden of the Royal Castle of Ostend, one was shot down in the aerial battle near Middelkerke. The pilot, a French officer, was killed. West of Lievin German anti-aircraft guns brought down two enemy aeroplanes. In the district of Fort Vaux two French biplanes were put out of commission by our armies."

The agreement reached by General Scott, of the United States, and Obregon, of Mexico, for the joint pursuit of Villa by American troops, has been ratified by President Wilson. The White House has not permitted any announcement to this effect to be made, but it was learned that just as soon as word is received that Carranza approves the pact this government will announce officially that it has also done so.

It was learned on official authority that the agreement does not set any time limit for the withdrawal of the American troops. The wording of the pact is such that the American forces can remain in Mexico indefinitely unless Villa is either captured or killed or his forces effectively dispersed, and as soon as there are definite indications that America border towns are no longer in danger of raids.

The agreement provides that the American commander in Mexico is to have free use of Mexican railways for transporting supplies to his troops.

Real co-operation of the Mexican forces with the American troops is provided for in the agreement.

It is understood that General Scott has pledged that the Mexican troops will be allowed to have every chance to kill or capture Villa. The American troops will give the Mexican forces their support, it is said, but will not attempt to take the glory of capturing Villa away from them.

It is understood the White House will make public the text of the agreement just as quickly as it learns that Carranza has ratified it.

FRIGHTFUL STRUGGLE GOING ON IN EUROPE.

We take the following statement of the destruction of life occasioned by the awful war now being waged in Europe from an exchange in order that our readers may form some idea of the horrible nature of the unprecedented conflict:

The frightfulness of the European struggle is little realized on this side of the Atlantic. Indeed the papers and magazines are discussing the relatively small percentage of the dead and permanently incapacitated compared with total population and the figures of these losses are put at under 4,000,000.

We have reason to believe, however, that the real figures to date are more than twice four million. We make the following table from the best available foreign sources of the estimated number of persons called to arms in each country, the total casualties to date and the estimated dead and permanently incapacitated in these total losses are:

Russia—Enlisted, 20,000,000; casualties, 5,000,000; dead and incapacitated, 3,000,000.

Germany—Enlisted, 7,000,000; Casualties, 4,000,000; dead and incapacitated, 2,500,000.

Australia—Enlisted, 6,000,000. Casualties, 3,000,000; dead and incapacitated, 2,000,000.

France—Enlisted, 4,500,000; casualties, 2,500,000, dead and incapacitated, 1,500,000.

British—Enlisted, 4,500,000; casualties, 700,000; dead and incapacitated, 350,000.

The above figures do not include the Italians, the Belgians nor the Serbians and Turks, which would add to the dead and incapacitated more than 300,000.

Russian casualties and dead are believed to be underestimated.

More than 40,000,000 men have been summoned to war in Europe and of these, 15,000,000 have been killed or wounded, more than half of whom are either dead or incapacitated.

The terrible earnestness of this struggle may be judged by the fact that all accounts agree that the spirit of both the French and the English is today more for war than ever before.

It is said that if any man in London seriously proposed peace he would be hung to the nearest lamppost. The French are crazy with war passion and demand not only success for their side, but revenge across the line.

The fighting is at closer range than ever before. Rifles are of less importance; hand grenades and knives are the close range weapons and few prisoners are now taken.

The dinner was spread in the yard and every one present seemed to enjoy it very much. All reported a nice time.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

Just a Little Fun.

On Sunday evening, April 30, 1916, a party of girls and boys went to Dr. Blair's fish pond to spend the evening in boat riding, quite a crowd present and all had a royal time. Most all enjoyed their ride on the grand little lake except the last boat load which contained Glensfork's high toned class, viz: Miss Vallie Platt, Mr. Virgil Collins, Mr. Finis Thomas and Mr. Frank Taylor.

As they were rowing along, singing the "Titanic" which was being lead by Mr. Collins, a sudden cry was heard: Help! help! All ran to the water's edge to watch the sinking of the little boat—(Boy Scout,) and its crew.

Mr. Collins was very much frightened. He stood in the center of the pond, which was less than three feet deep, screaming for someone to come to his rescue. Miss Platt touched him on the arm and said: "Virgil! come, let's get out of here." He thought it was the Savior, and said: "Bless your sweet name, you died on Calvary's cruel cross for me, and now running the risk of your life again trying to save me from a watery grave."

After Mr. Collins realized he was safe, he looked staringly at Miss Platt for a moment then said: "Miss Vallie, you are so much like our Savior."

Then we all started for home filling the air with laughter.

From Iowa.

Toledo, April 29, '16.

Editor News:—

As this is a rainy Sunday and I have nothing to do I will try to write again. I am very much pleased to see my letters printed in the Adair County News for it is the only paper.

I read of another chance for Kentucky to win and it is a railroad going from Greensburg to Columbia, and I hope they get the road, for I believe it would help Kentucky, and I certainly would like to see it come to the front.

There are many railroads here. Great Northwestern runs thru Toledo out of Chicago and does great work. Some Sundays there are as high as twelve freights go through here. So Iowa is a fine State, but not ahead of Kentucky in some ways. Well I am ready to plant corn and quite a few will plant this week if it quits raining.

How is Kentucky coming out farming? Guess it is ahead of Iowa. I noticed in the Adair County News where some have already planted some corn and it was in the letter from Knifley. I don't know who writes from Knifley, but hope they will write often as that is my home and I sure like to hear from there. Please tell me if the young man by the name of John Beard has gotten himself an automobile yet? If so I will be in soon and take a ride with him.

Oh say, how was Easter in Kentucky? Dry, I guess. It was just fine here. Myself and my boy friends, Lacie and Clyde, took dinner with Mr. Abner Woodrum and he said it cost him $10, and I don't dispute it for a finer dinner never was set. We had music in the afternoon as his daughter is a fine musician. We just had a good old time.

Mr. Dan Bridge often tells me about going fox hunting over one of the hills from Knifley, just above W. I. Ingram's farm, and he says he would like to be there and go hunting again and as sure as the world stands and I can get money enough to come on I will be there, for there is no place like Casey Creek for me. I would give $5.00 if I was at a certain place on Casey Creek today. I am sure I could enjoy myself much better than here. So you can guess where that one place is.

As I have written quite a little I will bring this letter to a close by asking Mr. Harris to please print it and thanking him for his trouble.

Yours truly,
C. E. Tucker.

SINCE TAKING PERUNA

I can say my bowels are much more regular.

My heart is stronger.

My appetite is much better.

My throat is
much better.

Mrs. William H. Hinchliffe, 20 Myrtle St., Beverly, Mass., writes: "I have taken four bottles of Peruna, and I can say that it has done me a great deal of good for catarrh of the head and throat. I recommend Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh. I do not think I ever felt much better. I am really surprised at the work I can do. I do not think too much praise can be said for Peruna."

Those who object to fluid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Things Worth Knowing.

One-fourth of the world's diet consists of vegetables.

One ton of whale blubber will yield 200 gallons of oil.

There are 5,078 radio stations in the United States.

There are 4,000,000 tons of stone in the pyramid of Cheops.

There are nearly 2,000 stitches
in a pair of hand-sewed shoes.

Fifty-three out of every 100 persons in the world live in Asia.

This country's railroads require 135,000,000 tons of coal a year.

The geographical origin of wheat is a mystery, lost in the dim past.

The world's total production of wheat approximates 4,000,000, 000 bushels.

There are approximately 82, 530 deaths annually in the United States due to accidents.

Boxing has been introduced in the schools of Australia as a reg-

A Symbol of Health,

The Pythagoreans of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness, or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable at Paull Drug Co.

As a Matter of Course.

Never take a blessing, no matter how small, as a matter of course. That is the chief trouble with unappreciative people.
As soon as they grow accustomed to a good thing, they cease to count it. The friends who lavish their love and service upon us frequently get less thanks than some one else who simply does us a trifling favor. Many a boy takes his mother's devotion as a matter of course. God's goodness, His days and crowns the years without kindling so much as a spark of gratitude in the hearts of some of us. Take nothing for granted. Do not begin any day with the assumption that certain blessings are yours by right. Receive each as it comes, as something fresh, unexpected, undeserved, and be thankful for it.

gave him Chamberlain's Cough Rem-

Spring Fever.

There is such a disease as spring fever. The germ may not be found; the scientists probably know nothing about it;
There is no virus with which the physicians can combat it. But it is here—abroad in the land—just the same.

The symptoms are well marked. It begins with a sort of restlessness and itching. A fellow who has contracted the disease is uneasy about something—he doesn't understand what it is.
He is discontented, and irritable, and wants to do nothing at all with all his might. He is careless, and doesn't care. His clothes grieve him; he would like to pull them off. The sight of water increases the violence of the disease—in that respect being something like hydrophobia. Passing a show window where there is fishing tackle on display, throws him into convulsions. His shoes hurt his feet and he wants to go barefooted. His socks slip down and his underclothes slip up. Collars choke him. Coats become burdensome and annoying.

As the disease progresses, a man's moral stamina is affected.
He can't tell the truth so readily as in the winter time. He begins lying about the fish he caught last season. If he is late at office, he doesn't give a plausible excuse. If he is late to meals he lies about the reason for his detention. Religion slips with the progress of spring fever—to that extent.

Like typhoid fever, spring fever must run its course. The suffering of the patient may be alleviated by loafing, but loafing doesn't cure the disease, not until it has run its course. A hard plank at a baseball game soothes to some extent, and an uncomfortable rock on a creek bank works wonders; but the disease goes on and on for several weeks growing in intensity. Then, it gradually disappears, as mysteriously as it appeared in the beginning of spring.—Dayton Daily News.

If You Must Drink.

To a married man who cannot get along without his drinks, the following is suggested as a solution to the bondage of his habit.
First—Start a saloon in your own house.

Second—Be the only customer.
You will have no license to pay.
Give your wife $3 to buy a gallon of whiskey, and remember there are 69 drinks in one gallon.

Third—Buy your drinks from no one but your wife, and by the time the first gallon is gone, she will have $7.25 to put in the bank and $3 to start business again.

Fourth—Should you live ten years and continue to buy booze from her, and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have money to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man, and quit thinking about you.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents. [7-43]

Horse-Export Situation.

Farm and Fireside tells us that an impressive testimony to the bigness of American livestock interests was afforded recently.

"A London dispatch stated that Great Britain alone had bought $60,000,000 worth of horses and mules in America since the war started. Just about the same day the agricultural department declared that, notwithstanding the unprecedented sales abroad, there were just as many horses and mules left in the country as when the war started.

"All the European countries are taking measures to keep their supply of horses. Various plans to encourage breeding, restore racing to favor, give prizes for good animals, purchase good stallions with public funds and permit them to be used by private breeders, and the like, are being organized in England and France. The horse question is going to be one of Europe's hardest after the war."

Good for Colds.

Honey, Pine-Tar and Glycerine are recognized cold remedies. In Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey these are combined with other cough medicine in a pleasant syrup. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar quickly stops your cough, checks your cold, soothes irritation of the throat. Excellent for young, adult and aged. Its one of the best cough syrups made. Formula on every bottle. You know just what you are taking and your doctor knows its good for coughs and colds. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Only 25c at Paull Drug Co. Adv

Wards of Ono Creche.

One of the most interesting of the foreign homes for poor children is the Ono Creche in Tokio. During the Russo-Japanese war, when the calling of the conscripts left many poor families without male support, some women started what is known as the Ono Creche. It is running yet with some 80 children on the books. The children are mostly put into clothes belonging to the Creche on arrival, and into their own again on leaving. One part of the biggest room is fenced off, and within the fence hang basket cradles for the infants in arms, whose mothers generally come at tiffin time to feed them. The older ones have tiffin provided, and their table manners are really not at all bad considering their age.

During the morning are kindergarten classes—or games—with action and marching songs, which are performed with a serious gusto by the mites who take part. The mothers pay for the services, but the charges are small, and there are numerous expenses. Two foreign and a few Japanese women do most of the supervision, and the contributions are mainly Japanese.

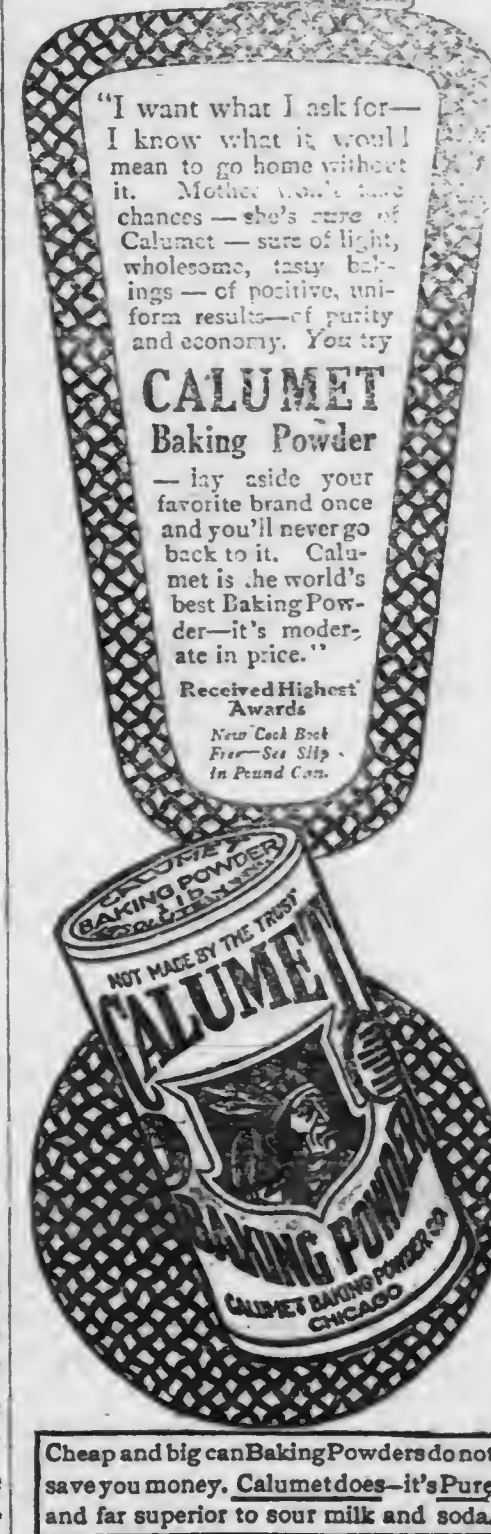

Not Out of the woods.

Ambassador von Bernstorff stands pat on his refusal to designate papers taken from his assistant, Mr. von Igel, as official, but demands that Mr. Von Igel's papers be restored. Still he is not out of the woods. The Washington Star puts it in these words:

"If the German Ambassador regards the entry, the arrest and the seizure of papers as an affront to his government and the attache is not released from all charges and the papers returned, together with all copies, accompanied by an apology, a possible cause of a rupture of relations with Germany develops. If, on the other hand, the United States Government holds that the promises were not immune from entry and that claiming of the papers as official and of the attache as immune is an assumption of responsibility by the German Ambassador for the acts alleged to have been committed by Von Igel and by others as disclosed by the papers—the contents of which will probably in any case have been noted officially—a possible ground of grievance against the German Government is afforded."

"No!—
I Said
Calumet!"

There hardly can be a question that the contents of the papers are such as to give sufficient ground for lodging a grievance against Germany. The probability is that the incident will be so overshadowed by the impending final statement of Germany on the submarine matter that nothing serious will be done about this case, but it will serve at least to give America "a line upon" Ambassador von Bernstorff and the Government will know enough about him to hamper him and reduce the value of his services as an agent of the Kaiser's American secret service bureau.

The Waning Fortunes of Col. Roosevelt.

Miss Republican Presidential Nomination is certainly the most fickle of maidens, and her two most prominent suitors, Col. Roosevelt and Justice Hughes, are suffering as many ups and downs as the average schoolboy lover.

Six weeks ago it appeared reasonably sure that Mr. Hughes would win the fair lady's hand, but the succeeding days brought a decline in the Hughes stock, and he is still on the anxious seat.

Col. Roosevelt, with persistency as his most distinguishing characteristic, more recently bid fare to prosecute a successful suit, but the past two weeks have brought him a series of setbacks, and he will have to make a new spurt to be in the running. In the Nebraska primaries he was a bad third to Cummins and Ford, both of whom are impossible as Presidential nominees.

In Iowa, where his candidacy was not actively prosecuted, he polled 3,500 votes to 20,000 for Cummins, who received the State's instructions. The small vote for the Colonel is, at least, indicative that there is no great popular clamor in Iowa for the man from Oyster Bay.

In Arkansas the Republicans, in State Convention, overwhelmingly defeated a resolution indorsing Col. Roosevelt for the nomination.

Perhaps the most severe defeat suffered by the Roosevelt forces was in Massachusetts; where there was a straight-out fight between the Roosevelt delegates and those who were unpledged. The latter won by majorities of 15,000 to 20,000. Among the delegates at large on the unpledged ticket was former Senator Murray Crane, who came in the Colonel's category of "second story men."

The fortunes of Col. Roosevelt are, undoubtedly, on the wane, and the situation now finds Justice Hughes the man most likely to be the nominated against Wilson.—E. Town News.

"Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done wonders for Me."

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years, and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for this complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets is the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief," writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Spencerport, N. Gradyville.

We had plenty of rain the first of the week,

Mr. George A. Keltner, of Keltner, was here the first of the week.

S. C. Neat was calling on our merchants last Tuesday.

Mrs. W. M. Wilmore has been on the sick list for several days.

Mr. Silas Cain is the first man to begin plowing young corn in this section this spring.

Mrs. Amos Keltner, who has been in bad health for several months, does not improve fast.

Uncle Jack Gowen, the well known merchant of Basil, made a trip to Columbia last Friday.

The growing crop of wheat is looking fine in this section—bids fair to make a big yield.

Mr. George Keltner, of Keltner, passed through here the first of the week en route for Cane Valley, where he will spend a few days visiting his son and family.

Mr. T. W. Dowell was in Metcalfe county one day last week looking after hogs.

Mr. Dolphus Rodgers, of Roachville, came in last Friday to spend a day or so with his parents at this place.

Messrs. Reece & Burris make their weekly trips to this place and get a good load with chickens and eggs at the market price.

Mr. and Mrs. Burtrice Sparks visited their relatives at Sparksville last Saturday.

The marksmen of our town and community put in several days of last week hunting squirrels. We understand they had fine success.

Mr. Strong Hill bought last week of Dr. B. F. Taylor, of East Fork, part of the mill at that place. We understand the part Mr. Hill bought will be moved to this place. We did not learn the consideration.

Elmer Cook had the misfortune of getting a very fine work mule stabbed, while working it one day last week. We understand the mule bled considerably before they succeeded in getting the blood stopped. We understand it is getting along nicely now.

Mr. J. F. Pendleton came over from Greensburg to this place last Monday and on Tuesday received from our people in this section 150 hogs for which he paid out over $1,700. We understand in the afternoon of the same day he received about the same number at Milltown.

Farmers are getting along nicely with their work. A few are done planting corn.

Eld. W. G. Montgomery and family, of Campbellsville, visited here last week. He preached Saturday night and Sunday at Shiloh. His sermon on the resurrection was especially pleasing.

Mr. J. C. Montgomery had the misfortune of losing another horse last Friday night. This is the third horse he has had to die within a few months.

Mr. Calvin Maupin has moved his saw mill to Ella to saw a set for Mr. Grasham.

Mr. Sinclair made his regular trip to this place Tuesday. He is doing a good business in the produce line.

Miss Love Richard, who lives near Concord has typhoid fever.

Misses Lula Bryant and Flora Kearnes spent last Friday with Mrs. Nannie Murrell, Craycraft.

INDOOR WORKER IS HANDICAPPED.

Office Men Often Pay Penalty of Indoor Grind.

We can't all be devotees of the great out-of-doors, and so the office men and women too often pay the penalty of the all-day grind at the desk.

There comes in many cases the sluggishness that is bred of physical inactivity and the ailments that mark the indoor man for their own.

To say "I feel good all over" is to speak the acme of content, and when this is supplemented by a steady, healthy increase in weight after a long period of suffering, the fortunate man unusually feels that he wants to share his good luck with the less fortunate "other fellow."

It is this spirit that prompts so many prominent business men in every community to endorse Tanlac. Tanlac assists nature to throw off depression and in its place to stimulate the system, with the result that energy and vigor return.

That "tired feeling" means a good deal more than is generally realized. It is one of the symptoms of a more serious condition. It is not laziness, it is a physical ailment that needs correction before it takes a firm hold on you. The results of the Tanlac treatment are amazing.

Tanlac tends to make tired out, listless persons sturdy and of real manhood and womanhood like those old-fashioned but most sensible folks—the pioneers.

As a tonic, appetizer and invigorant, nothing ever has been discovered that will compare with Tanlac. It builds new tissues, vitalizes the blood, and acts so favorably on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes.

Satisfied users of Tanlac have proven to be Tanlac's best advertisers. Men and women, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, everywhere are testifying daily to the relief Tanlac has brought them. No other remedy has won such endorsements, that can only come from superlative merits.

Tanlac is being especially introduced in Columbia, Ky., at the Page & Hamilton Store, where the Tanlac Man is daily explaining its merits and the results that may be expected from its use.

Ernest Kerr, son of Mr. Woodson Kerr, who lives on the pike, this side of Campbellsville, has the small pox. There are several new cases in town, but the health officers are doing their duty, regardless of the criticisms of part of the public. Some people are so sensitive that they do not want a yellow flag displayed, but protection demands the enforcement of the law.

The Green River Medical Society held a very interesting meeting at Campbellsville last Thursday. There was an unusual good attendance and a number of interesting talks were made. Marion, Taylor, Adair and Green counties are embraced in the organization.

Dr. C. V. Hiestand and wife, of Merrimac, were in town last Monday. Dr. Hiestand is a member of the County Educational Board, and is always on the alert when educational matters are mentioned.

Mr. Robert Blanford bought the Taylor County Enquirer plant last Monday. It was sold on account of claims against it to the amount of $706.76. It brought only the indebtedness. He is going to have all the machinery overhauled and equip it better than ever. Mr. Blanford is no novice in the newspaper business, and we predict a liberal support of the public.

A petition for a graded school at Campbellsville was filed sometime ago. The sentiment of the people has increased for such a school, and the friends of it predict that it will be established. Only one objection was entered against it, but that was made satisfactory in Judge Hendrickson's court.

A farmer at this place dug out ten cut worms from under one white top weed. Insects seem to be plentiful and getting ready to destroy vegetation.

Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Central University, will make the address to the graduating class of the High School next Friday night at the opera house. He has but very few equals as a speaker, and the public in general should appreciate the efforts of the faculty in securing the services of such an educator. You will be amply paid by going a distance to hear him.

The indications are that the Hessian fly has done a great deal of damage to the wheat and oat crops. The last few days growth shows an unhealthy outlook.

A school house in the eastern part of the county was burned on last Saturday morning. The patrons of the district felt confident that the fire was of incendiary origin, so they had two blood hounds from Hustonville to place on the trail. They readily scented the trail twice to the same place. The evidence thus gained with what had been said before the deal, gave satisfaction to many.

Mr. James Sapp began last year to handle ponies. He finds a ready sale for them. No child has any aversion to his father investing a neat little sum for his pleasure.
